Lots of Dots Instructions

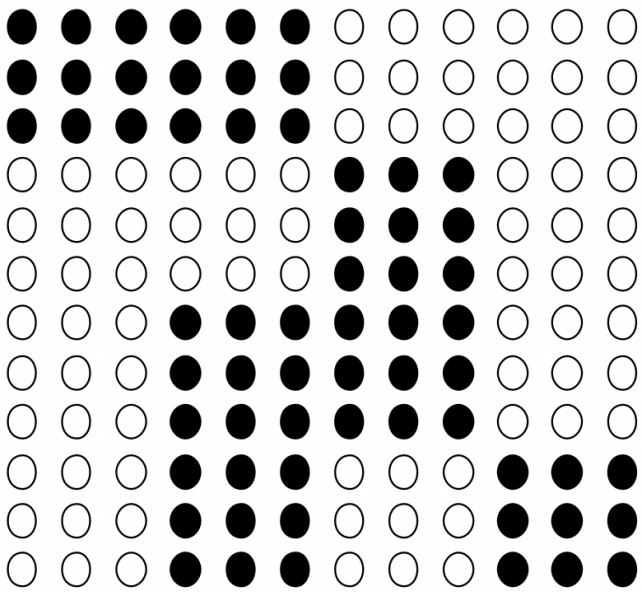
There are 16 dot cards in each game. Each group member will receive their own set of 4 dot cards. Each card has one or more duplicates, but there is one card that has NO duplicates; it does not have a match. Your job as a group is to find the one dot card that doesn't have a match.

Here are the rules:

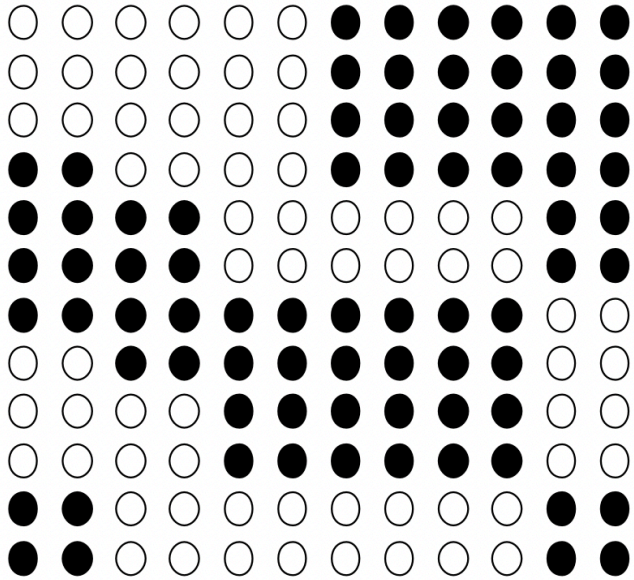
- You may only look at YOUR cards.
- You cannot show your cards to another group member.
- You cannot draw pictures or diagrams of the designs.
- The number at the bottom of each card is irrelevant, and should not be considered as part of the dot card.
- You may talk any way you choose.

If your group thinks they have identified the one card without a match, call me over to confirm. The task ends whether or not you are correct, so make sure your group is confident before calling.

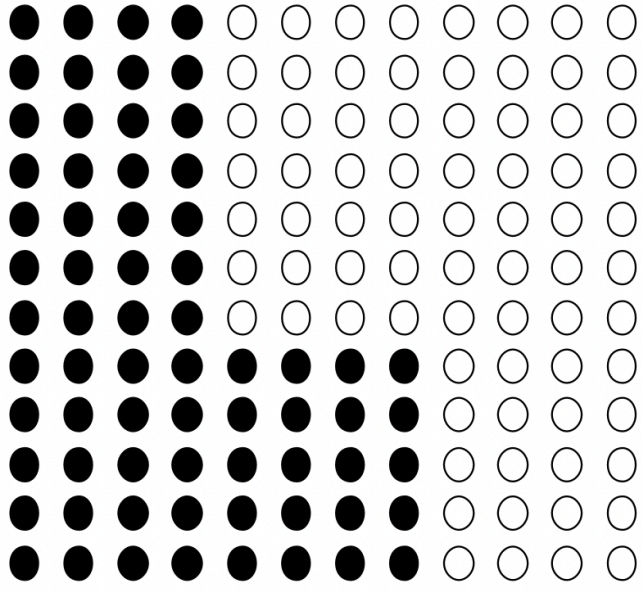
Adapted from: Stanford CI Skill Builders



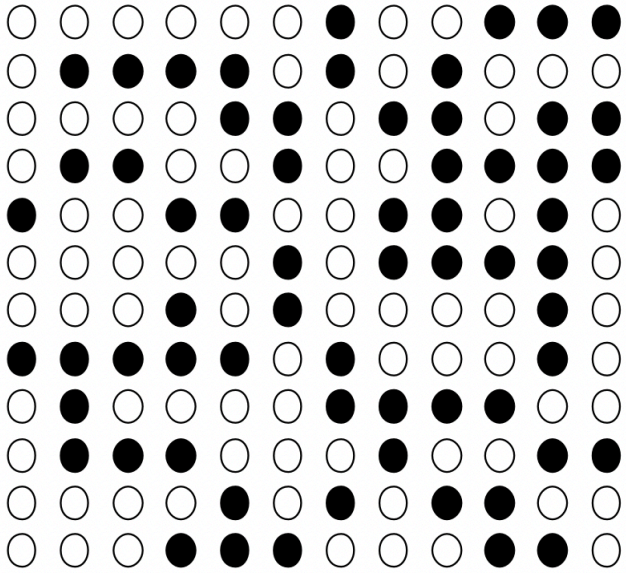
1



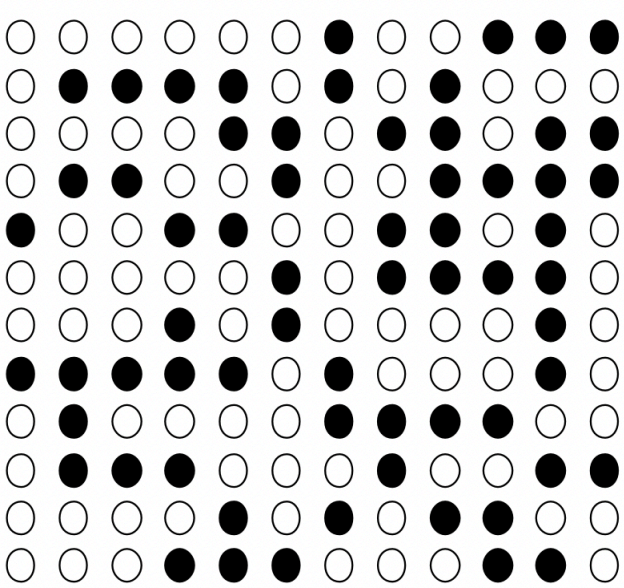
2



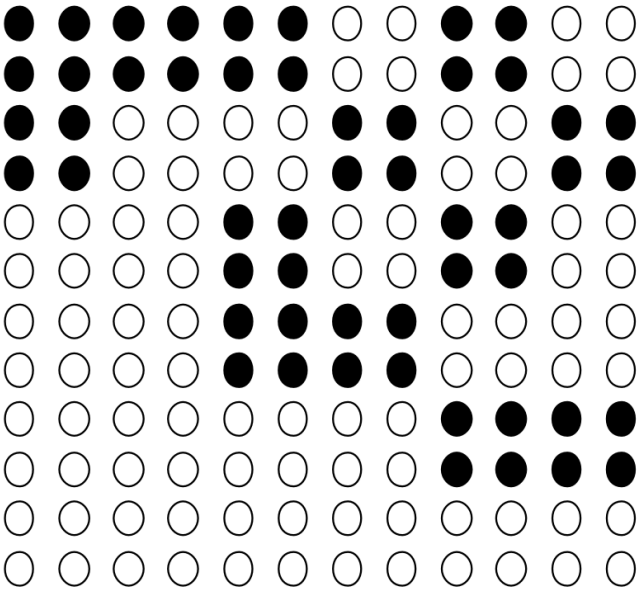
3



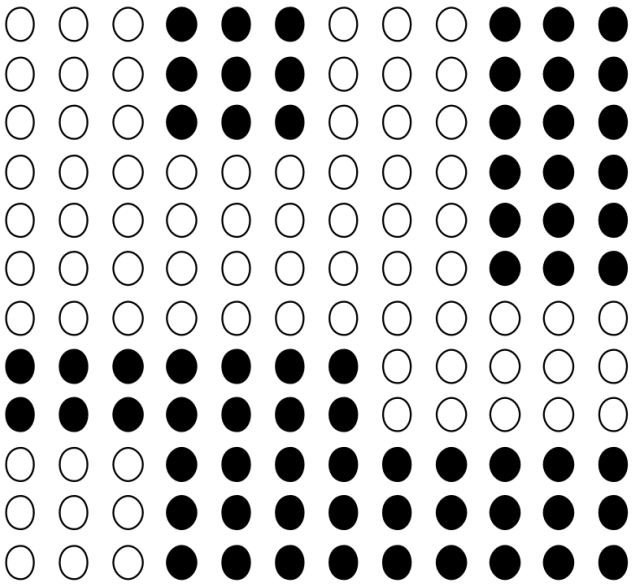
4



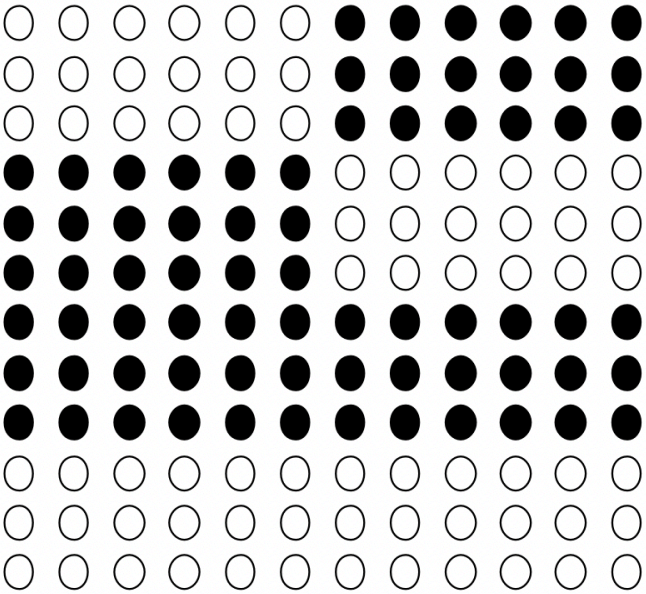
5



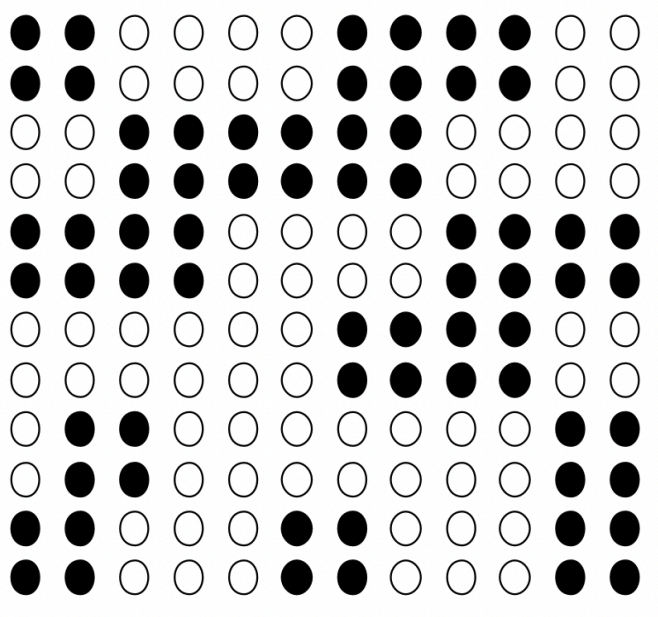
6



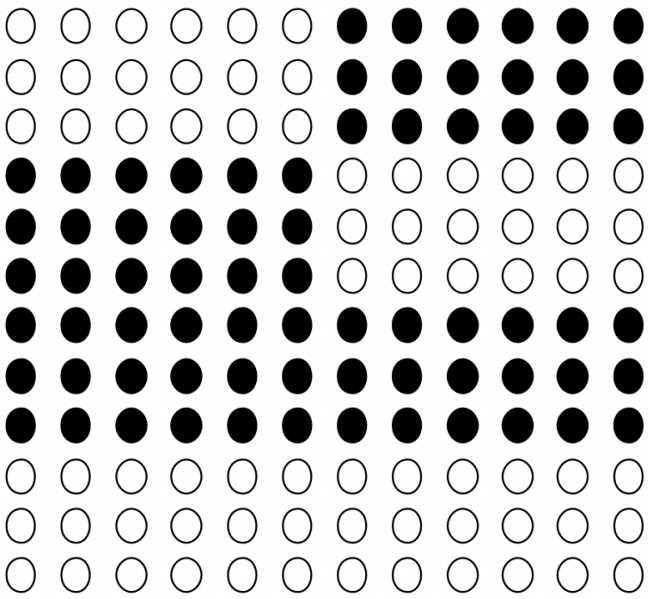
7



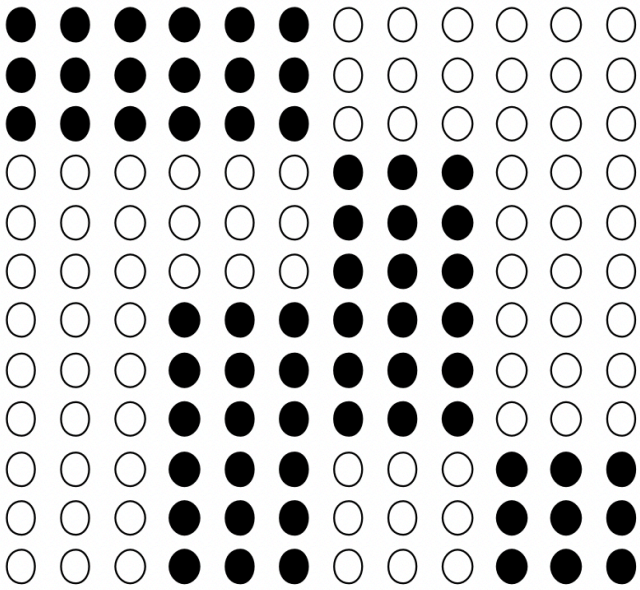
8



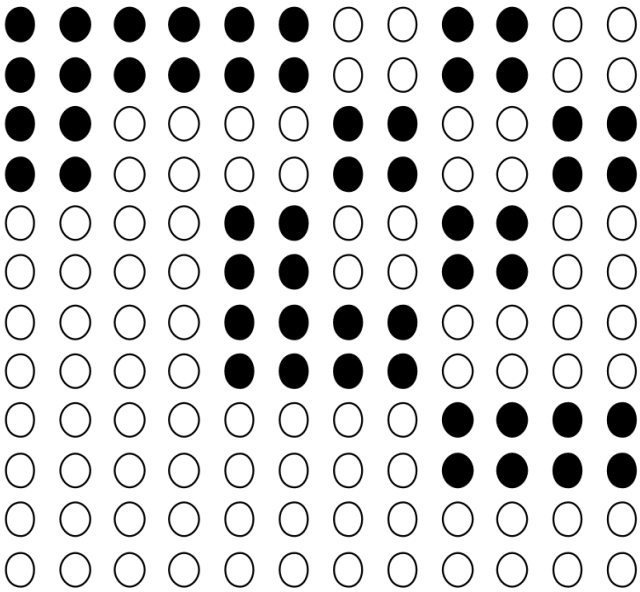
9



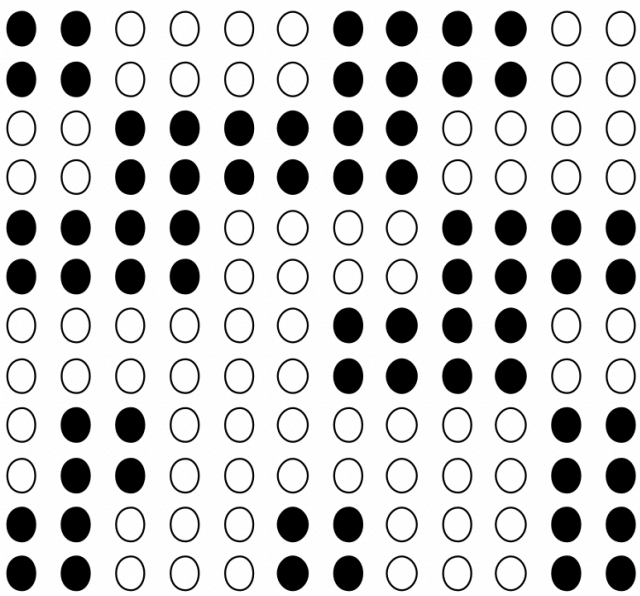
10



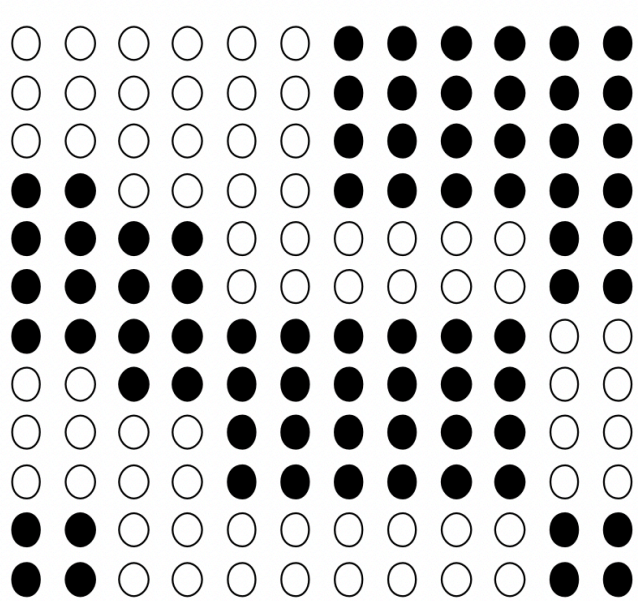
11



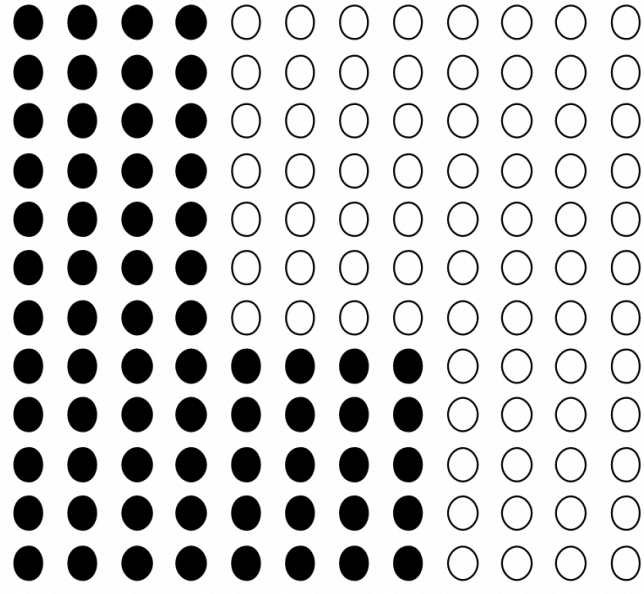
12



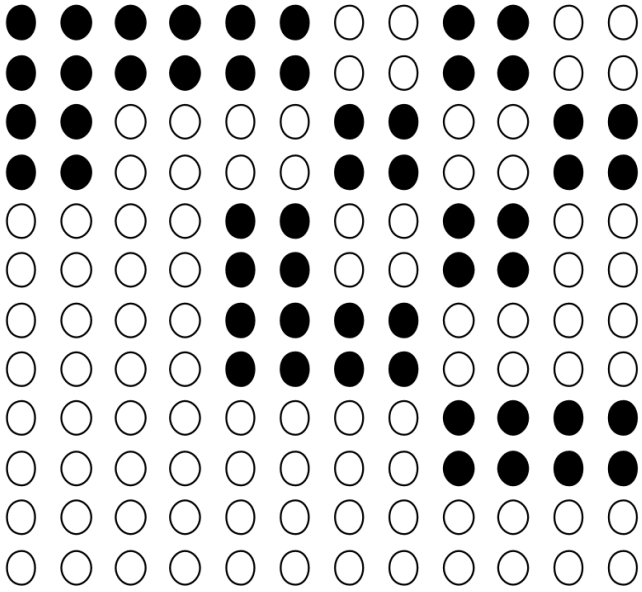
13



14



15



16